MOORE HIGH SCHOOL,

Since 1881, Moore High School has stood with dignity upon the banks of the Brazos River. From an humble four-room building, our physical plant has expanded into a stately campus consisting of a main building and annex having thirty-three classrooms and a library, a family and home-life building, an agricultural building, five mobile classrooms and a gymnasium-auditorium. Although there have been moderate exterior changes, more significant changes have been made in the curriculum and our administrative practices - changes which have placed more emphasis on our American heritage - our ability to create, to express personal opinions, to exhibit leadership and cooperation, to discover and to invent.

Though someday these buildings will be replaced, the love and memories enshrined in the hearts of her students will always remain. Memories that have made these buildings of cold mortar and brick as warm as the loving hearts of those who love will be ours.

"THE JOY OF OUR YEARS"

Memories of the shouts of anguish during defeat, the yells of encouragement for our victories, memories of over a thousand voices raised in harmony singing the school song, memories of the gaiety and laughter of prom night and the pride and joy of graduation will be ours too.

These memories, these buildings of love and shelter, this fortress of learning, this is our school.

— Loyce Walton

DEDICATION

JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
1917-1963

On November 22, 1963 the thirty-fifth President of the United States, John F. Kennedy, was the victim of an assassin's bullet. The tragic news of that dark November day made an indelible stamp on the memory of every American. For hours, days, weeks, and even years it will be difficult to understand the why of this senseless tragedy.

To the young American, John F. Kennedy was a symbol of hope. Particularly did he capture the imagination of the young with his vigor and vision - a vision of a noble, free America - a world of peace.

To him opportunities for all Americans had no boundaries and to this cause he dedicated his life.

A "profile of courage" has been etched in our memory and from this profile we gain renewed dedication to the ideals for which our great country stands . . . life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness.

WE SALUTE YOU, COACHES

R. H. HARDMAN

Planners for the future, architects of victory, molders of moral courage, the coaches of Moore High School teams are the worthy possessors of these attributes. Their untiring and unrelenting efforts have led the "Lions" to many great moments in athletic competition.

They are an uncommon breed, who have compiled fifty years of coaching experience at Moore High School. By their unselfish devotion and patience, they have instilled within the boys not only basic fundamentals of the game, but a high standard of ethics to follow throughout their lives. We, the Seniors of 1964, take the greatest pride in saluting our coaches as a token of our deep affection.

ROBERT JOHNSON, Editor-in-Chief

The senior class of Moore High School presents the 1964 edition of The Lion. In it we depict the student life of Moore High on the campus, in various organizations, activities, classes and athletics.

In choosing the theme, "We Salute Our American Heritage," we can visualize the obligations we, the younger generation, face in inheriting citizenship in a free and democratic nation. We must be grateful to our leaders, from our first President George Washington to President Lyndon Johnson, who have made great strides in achieving a democratic government. Likewise, we are grateful to the administration and teachers in our public schools.

We are optimistic about our future. We agree with the American novelist, Thomas Wolfe, who said, "I think that true fulfillment of our spirit, of our people, of our mighty and immortal land is yet to come."

Speaking for the annual staff and senior class, I wish to express my gratitude to all who aided in the publication of this, "The 1964 Lion."

SEATED:

Mr. Peeler Williams, President; Mrs. M. M. Macrae, Mr. Emmett L. Yant, and Mrs. Ruth Ferguson.

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

Congratulations on your choice of this yearbook's theme, "We Salute Our American Heritage." Honoring our country's glorious past means retaining and developing all those great personal and group qualities that elevate the level of American culture and insures a future for our land that knows no limits. May we always honor the past so that the future may be better.

Avery R. Downing
Superintendent

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

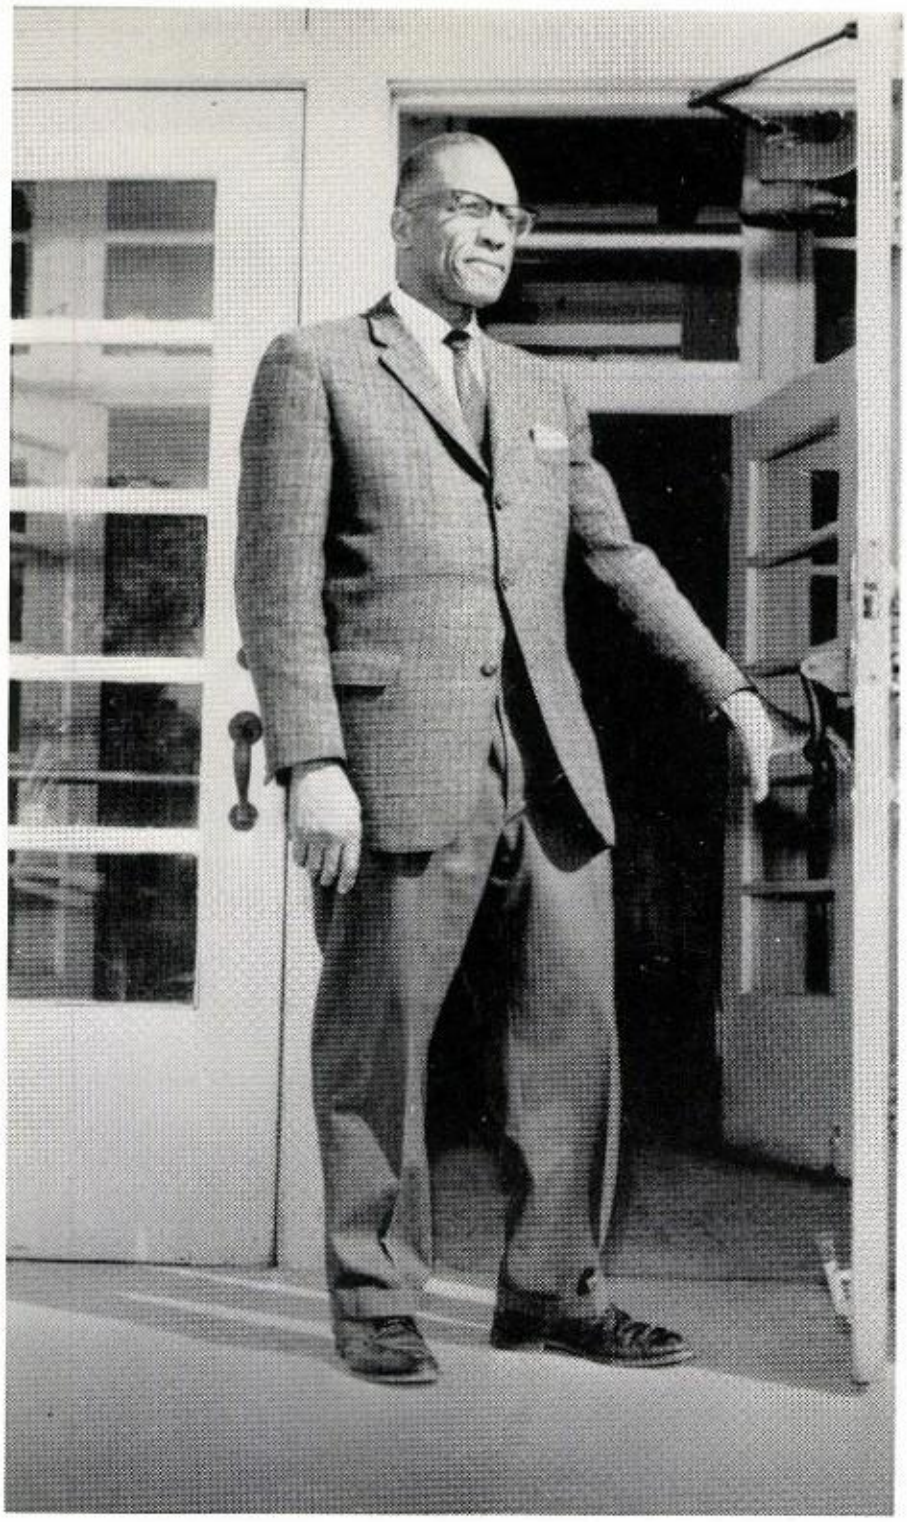
America is the land of Franklin, Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, and Wilson. As such, it has created a glow of hope in the eyes and minds of people everywhere who are interested in the dignity of all men.

America is a land of ever-increasing democratic practices. As such, it calls for the best from informed, educated, and concerned citizens if it is truly to reach the magnificent goal of "government of the people, by the people and for the people."

America is the first nation to attempt to provide free public education for all youth through twelve years of schooling. Such an endeavor enables the promising youth to rise to heights unknown by his counterpart in distant lands. As a result, an individual may become known widely for what he can do and how well he can think rather than for the "blue blood" in his ancestors' veins.

America will continue to be a beacon light and will remain strong and prosperous as long as these national guidelines are paramount.

- L. V. McNamee -



Principal J. J. Wilson

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

The theme for the 1964 Lion is "We Salute Our American Heritage." The staff is to be congratulated on selecting such a timely topic.

With the death of our great president, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, we are made to realize even more poignantly the necessity for preserving the rightful traditions of our nation. We as patrons, teachers, and pupils must do all in our power to preserve and perpetuate the principles of democracy upon which rest the constitution and the framework of our government.

As you turn the pages of this book, you will be made aware of how this school goes about the task of preparing young people to become functional in a democracy. They are learning common essentials, skills, vocations, industries, attitudes, and good citizenship which will help them to become real Americans.

I salute the 1964 Lion, the staff, the Administration, the faculty, the students, and the patrons of Moore High. We are a vital part of "The American Heritage."

COUNSELORS AT WORK

Choosing a vocation is a privilege that requires much consideration. Mrs. F. V. Webster, girls' counselor, discusses job opportunities with senior girls.

Mr. W. R. Gerald, boys' counselor, helps senior boys make decisions about college study.

OFFICE PERSONNEL

Mrs. V. J. Ritcherson, attendance clerk, processes a plate on the addressograph machine. Each student has a plate that gives pertinent information that is kept on file.

Mrs. B. C. Peoples, registrar, uses the tub file to schedule students into classes.

Miss E. J. Miller, secretary to the principal, prepares a Hectograph stencil to run on the Ditto machine.

ANNUAL STAFF

Deadline dates made many of these staff members give up other important dates: Vera Nora, Evelyn Thompson, Mary Tennyson, Willie Whitfield, Marion George, Rosie Johnson, Tommie Walker, Patricia Hatchett, Israel Anderson, Elmer Cole, and Alex Wheeler.
